MESSAGE

On the occasion of Teachers' Day, I pay homage to the great visionary, educationist, statesman and philosopher, our former President Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, in whose memory we celebrate this day every year.

Teachers are the architects of our future generations. They nurture our capabilities of intuitiveness and creativity, build our entrepreneurial skills and inculcate leadership values in us. They are visionaries and nation builders and they are the leaders of social change. 5th September every year is a day to express our gratitude for their dedicated efforts to educate children and make them pioneers in all fields such as medicine, science and the arts, to name a few.

The celebration of Teachers' Day every year is an opportunity for all of us to thank those respected teachers who have motivated and inspired us to pursue our dreams and celebrate our successes.

On this auspicious day, I extend my heartiest greetings to all the teachers of this nation. I believe that their hard work and determination will take India to new heights of glory in the years to come.
